ART IS UNDOUBTEDLY IN THE AIR IN ASPEN—THESE CULTURAL GATHERINGS ARE WORTH PENNING INTO THE CALENDAR THIS SUMMER.

BY RACHEL FEINBLATT

7/9-13

ANDERSON RANCH ARTS CENTER RECOGNITION WEEK

Recognizing the valuable contributions made by local individuals and influential contemporary artists to Anderson Ranch Arts Center, the organization is planning a week of celebrations. The schedule for the week includes a variety of programs such as a recognition dinner and a summer series lecture. Special events include Charles Gaines conversing with Rodney McMillian, along with Barbara and Bruce Berger engaging in conversation with Gabriela Palmieri. These events, among others across the week, are aimed at acknowledging the hard work and dedication of supporters who have helped shape Anderson Ranch Arts Center. 5263 Owl Creek Road, Snowmass Village, andersonranch.org

7/15-8/26

CINEMA UNDER THE STARS

Silence your phones and take your seat—the show's about to start! This summer, The Little Nell partners with Aspen Film to bring a series of outdoor film screenings on selected Monday evenings. Attendees can opt for GA seating and VIP seating, where snacks and signature cocktails complement the movie experience. Aspenites can anticipate a stellar selection of movies, including Ferris Bueller's Day Off, European Vacation, Overboard and As Good As It Gets. 675 E Durant Ave, Aspen, thelittlenell.com

THE ASPEN ART FAIR AT THE HISTORIC HOTEL JEROME

This new art and design fair, led by co-founder and director Becca Hoffman, will feature a diverse cultural program and is set to attract both local and international attendees. The event stems from a collaboration with Aspen's distinguished cultural organizations and aims to provide a unique combination of fine art, culture and a luxurious lifestyle experience. With more than 30 exhibitors from over 12 countries around the globe expected to attend, the fair promises an array of modern and contemporary art and design objects. Attendees can also look forward to an engaging schedule filled with exclusive home tours, speaker discussions, performances, and outdoor activities, highlighting the picturesque landscape of the region. Hotel Jerome, 330 E Main St., Aspen, aspenartfair.org

INTERSECT ASPEN ART AND DESIGN FAIR

The Intersect Aspen Art and Design Fair, now incorporating contemporary design into its title, is set to return to the Aspen Ice Garden this summer with a stronger curation than ever. Featuring over 100 artists and nearly 30 top galleries from more than 20 cities, Intersect Aspen will feature top design galleries such as Todd Merrill Studio, Mastrangelo and BDDW, as well as world-renowned galleries, including Jackson Fine Art, Hilton Contemporary, Melissa Morgan Fine Art and more. Art will most certainly be in abundance as Meghann Riepenhoff, Zaria Forman and Aspen's own D.J. Watkins showcase the rich artistic culture of Aspen. 233 W Hyman Ave., Aspen, intersectaspen.com
